

Idaho Springs to Loveland Pass

Idaho Springs to Loveland Pass

59 miles - 5,125 feet

Moderate/Difficult

Idaho Springs to Loveland Pass

Idaho Springs, Dumont, Lawson, Georgetown, Bakerville, Loveland Pass. Route follows the I-70 frontage road and bike paths to Loveland Pass.

From the Clear Creek County Middle School parking lot turn left (north) on Colo. 103 for ½ mile into Idaho Springs. At the intersection with Colo. Blvd. turn left (west) and follow Colo. Blvd ½ mile to Stanley Rd. Take Stanley Rd. 1 mile until it turns into Colo. 312. Follow Colo. 312 2.5 miles to Dumont. Turn right (north) and take the overpass over I-70 to the Dumont frontage road (Colo. 308). Turn left (west) on Colo. 308 and ride 1.5 miles through Dumont and Downieville, under I-70 to Lawson. Continue west on Colo. 308 for 2.5 miles just past the Easter Seal Camp where the road turns into Colo. 306. Follow Colo. 306 3.5 miles past Georgetown Lake to Georgetown. Take Rose St. toward the center of Georgetown and follow the bike path signs up to the Georgetown Loop Railroad station at the west edge of town. Ride through the train station parking lot and continue west on the bike path to Silver Plume. Follow the frontage road (Water St.) from Silver Plume 4.5 miles to Bakerville. At Bakerville take the bike path 5 miles to Loveland Valley Ski Area. At Loveland Valley, take the frontage road 1 mile to Loveland Ski Area & Highway 6. Follow Highway 6 4.5 miles to the top of Loveland Pass. Retrace the route back to Idaho Springs.

Round trip: 59 miles 5,125 ft. elevation gain.